Lynelle and I have now experienced four “backyard gatherings” designed to help us get to know the Mayfield Church. These conversations have centered on four key questions:

1) What do we do well at Mayfield Church?
2) What is the greatest challenge or opportunity facing this church in the next 12-24 months?
3) What “God-sized miracles” do we need to pray for here at the Mayfield Church?
4) How has our church helped you grow spiritually?

Staff “scribes” are capturing the essence of the conversations. A summary of what we learn will go to the Executive Team and then will be shared with the congregation. I fully trust this will help the Mayfield Church claim the Mission, catch the Vision, develop the Goals and put in place the Action Plan for the year to come as we “praise God from whom all blessings flow!”

We have been blessed by the conversations to date. Key themes are emerging that describe a healthy, vital, faithful culture in the Mayfield Church undergirded and sustained by prayer, partnership with the Holy Spirit, and perseverance in seeking and following God’s will. In addition to engaging worship and excellent music, members point to these areas that Mayfield Church does well:

1) LifeGroups. Over and over members describe the sense of community, caring, and spiritual growth as disciples of Jesus that comes because of their participation in these small groups;

2) Hospitality. The testimony of many, many members is that they were first drawn to this community of faith by the welcoming smiles and genuine hospitality offered by God’s people;

3) Engaging Ministry for all Ages. No matter what day of the week, the church is always alive with activity involving members and people of the surrounding communities. The Heartland Childcare Center, Children’s and Youth Ministries, Adult Ministries and the extensive number of people who serve according to their gifts and passion let all who have eyes to see know that God is at work in and through the Mayfield Church;

4) Mission. Our mission to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world literally takes place here, near and far. There is no shortage of ways to serve the mission and many members are active in life-changing, world-transforming ways.

There is no doubt we face many challenges. We like to view these challenges as opportunities to face up, pray up, rise up, and move up to serve God’s purposes through the Mayfield Church. Many of these opportunities may require God-sized miracles to accomplish, but how do we think we got where we are?

Best of All Is God Is With Us,
Pastor Jim

Please Help Our Students by Buying School Supplies During Ohio’s Tax-Free Weekend!

As part of Mayfield’s “Hands That Serve” Mission program, we are collecting school supplies for students at Rowland and Adrian Elementary Schools in South Euclid.

We are asking each Mayfield Church family to buy one item, and we encourage you to buy your item during Ohio’s Tax-Free Weekend, which starts on Friday, August 3, at 12:01 AM and runs through Sunday, August 5, at 11:59 PM.

During the Tax-Free Weekend, you can buy certain items and not pay any sales or use tax. Eligible items fall into several categories, including school supplies priced at $20 or less.

Bring your item to church throughout August, and place it in the gray bin at any of the church entrances.

We will deliver the supplies to the schools’ social worker, who will give them to children in need and to teachers who request them for their students.

Most Needed Items:
- Crayons (24 Count)
- Markers (8 Count, Broad Tip, Washable)
- Two-Pocket Folders (Blue, Yellow, Green and Red)
- One-Subject Notebooks (Blue, Yellow, Green and Red)

Also Very Much Requested:
- No. 2 Pencils (Yellow, Ticonderoga brand preferred)
- Large Pink Erasers
- Black Dry-Erase Markers
- Yellow Highlighters
- Small Glue Sticks
- Student Scissors (Pointed Tip or Blunt Rounded)
- Large Boxes of Tissue (250 Count)
Please join us on Sunday, August 12, for Holy Donut Day. That’s the day we eat donuts for a holy (good) cause: our reading program at Adrian School. The donations you give for our delicious Patterson’s donuts will help pay the shipping costs to send new books to our students.

Adrian first-grade teacher Karen Hadden and learning resource teacher Cathy Stang (pictured with Mayfield’s Ina Hardesty) will be with us on Holy Donut Day to share stories about how our church’s book program is changing the lives of their students.

Stang, in a recent grant proposal, wrote: “Ever since I started teaching 29 years ago, I wanted to make a difference in the lives of my students. I believe by providing each of Adrian’s almost 300 students with approximately 13 books this past year I made a difference in their lives.

“I may never know the far-reaching impact this has had,” she continued. “I do, however, know the immediate impact. I have students share information or stories they have read in their books. I have students tell me they are asking for a bookshelf for Christmas so they have a safe place for all their books.”

Adrian students will have no shortage of reading material when they return to school this month: On July 16, UPS delivered 350 hard-cover books thanks to donations from Mayfield Church! Since 2013, Mayfield has helped put 44,101 new books (valued at $457,164) in the hands of Adrian students. Yea God!

Thank you for caring about children in our communities!

Clip and collect Tyson Project A+ labels from Tyson packages. Each label is worth 24 cents. Collect labels in a plastic bag and put in Pastor Jan’s mailbox. (If you are a tutor at Rowland, you can give them to your teacher for the pizza party competition!)
Max Lucado, pastor at Oak Hills Church in San Antonio, Texas, is the author of our fall all-church book study: Anxious for Nothing: Finding Calm in the Chaos (Thomas Nelson), which begins on October 14. The book began as a message series on Philippians 4:6-7:

“Do not be anxious about anything but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.”

In the November/December issue of Outreach magazine, Lucado spoke with editor-at-large Paul J. Pastor. Here are excerpts from that interview.

Between 1988 [when Lucado began at Oak Hills] and today, have you sensed that anxiety is a rising tide? Pretty much any research study on this topic expresses dire concern about anxiety today. Also concerning is our inability to effectively treat it – especially among younger people. Psychologist Philip Zimbardo sets the context: It appears that children these days feel the same level of stress as the average psychiatric patient of the 1950s.

What’s causing that? Two things: Our secularism is increasing, which removes God from the conversation, and our levels of information exposure are increasing – bad news reaches us at such speed that we have no time to digest it. My parents or my grandparents would have heard about a terrorist attack, or a natural disaster, hours, days, even weeks after it happened. But today? Minutes. Seconds. It’s constant. The speed at which we receive bad news overwhelms our ability to process it.

What is the difference between anxiety and fear? Fear is the healthy response to a threat. Anxiety is the unnecessary meditation on that threat. Fear sees a bear and says, Run! Anxiety says, Don’t ever go outside because you might see a bear. … Fear is a healthy response. It keeps me, for example, from stepping into oncoming traffic. Anxiety is an unhealthy trepidation. It is more of a paralyzing overstatement and expectation of fear.

The apostle Paul says, “Do not be anxious.” … The Greek for “anxious” is better translated into English (because of its tense) as “do not be in a perpetual state of anxiety.” That fuller translation helps us to capture the root of what I’m talking about: an ongoing, persistent state of fearful and negative expectation.
What’s the opposite of fear? Faith! … In the book, I talk about the possibility of living a life of “less fret.” We need to learn how to quickly deal with our fear and worry before it becomes anxiety. We do that by doing in faith what Paul says: “Rejoice in the Lord.” … I’d love to say that I never have anxiety, but I do. … But the Lord wants us to have tools to deal with it in a healthy way.

Are there habits that are benchmarks for remembering and living into that sovereignty of God? Reading and memorizing Scripture – allowing it to really get into our hearts – is one. Belonging to some type of group where people know your name and you’re willing to share your struggles [is another]. A place of authentic community. For many people, that’s in a home, workplace, or school. Then thirdly, it’s vital to develop a habit of worship. … Worship gets my mind off myself and reminds me that there is a big God who can help me with whatever I’m facing.

What does an anxiety-free Christian life look like? It’s characterized by joy. There’s a lot of laughter.

In the book, you mention gratitude as an anti-anxiety practice. What I’ve discovered is that gratitude and anxiety will not share the same heart. If you begin to make a list of things for which you’re grateful, then anxiety has to leave. It’s as if there is no oxygen for it to breathe in you.

How can we share joyful, peaceful living with the profoundly anxious culture we live in? One principle immediately comes to mind: Don’t force it. Don’t tell yourself: I have to quit worrying. Or, I have to be a source of peace and hope — now! That’s not how it works.

Peace is simply the natural outflow of the indwelling presence of Christ. It’s a fruit – a fruit of the Spirit. My job is not to force fruit. My job is not to be the happiest person on the block. My job is not to be the most peaceful person. My job is simply to abide in Christ. To the degree that I abide in Christ, that I cling to him, that I love him, that I turn to him, that fruit of peace is just going to be. It’s going to happen.

WHAT DO YOU DO AT AN ORGANISTS CONVENTION?

I attended the National Convention of the American Guild of Organists in Kansas City, Missouri early July. It was a wonderful week of thrilling concerts, workshops and worship services! In July, more than 1400 musicians from around the country and the world gathered to celebrate the King of Instruments and our role as musicians. The worship services and hymn festival were so inspiring. Singing the great hymns of the church with 1400 musicians takes you right to the edge of heaven! We heard several top performers on spectacular instruments in beautiful spaces every day.

Kansas City is home to the National World War I museum. The convention theme featured the anniversary of 100 years since the end of World War I. The beginning convocation and the concluding worship service featured music, poetry, meditations and letters from soldiers, reminding us of the continuing social justice issues faced by our world.

Two performances featured liturgical ballet dancers. The dancers added another layer of artistry and inspiration to the music. We heard several newly commissioned works by American composers.

Kansas City has a fabulous new performing arts center for their orchestra. We were there three different times for concerts and a wonderful hymn festival. The new organ there is enormous and exciting!

The people of Kansas City were warm, friendly and welcoming. We had a great week of marvelous, inspiring music! Thank you for supporting me to go!
HOW DO YOU TRAIN A STEPHEN MINISTER?
By Joy Clason

50 hours of training?!?!? What could possibly take that long? Stephen Ministry's goal is to equip laypersons to provide high-quality, confidential, Christian care for people who are hurting. It's an important role and one which requires significant education of the Stephen Ministers to be successful. Mayfield's Stephen Leaders lead the formal training program by following the detailed and researched curriculum established by the Stephen Ministries organization. Our classes began in early February and were held every Wednesday night through May, plus two Saturday workshops.

In addition to reading assignments before each session, the training included a wide variety of teaching methods such as lectures, skill practice, large and small discussion groups, and videos. Some of the areas of training included:

- Feelings
- The Art of Listening
- Distinctively Christian Caring
- Process vs. Results in Caring
- Crisis Theory and Practice
- Starting and Closing Caring Relationships
- Dealing with Grief and Depression
- Maintaining Boundaries
- Supervision
- Confidentiality
- Using Community Resources

Every session ended with a review of how the new material related to the 'Caregiver's Compass': what does it mean for a Stephen Minister to be compassionate, full of faith, skilled, and trustworthy and how Stephen Ministers keep Jesus at the center of their caring relationships throughout all aspects of the program.

Although the training required a significant commitment, the new ministers found it to be comprehensive, meaningful, well-organized, spiritual, and fun. Amid the serious nature of the work there also was much laughter. Additionally, the ministers felt that the training provided new insights and skills applicable to their everyday lives. The training was time well-spent and ensures that the care receivers we serve will receive quality care.

If you or someone you know would like more information about receiving the services of a Stephen Minister, contact the Stephen Ministry Referrals Coordinator, Joyce Gordon, at 216-570-3767 (leave a message) or joytgordon@gmail.com.
We are planning a celebration for “All Saints Day” on Sunday, November 4. All Saints Day comes six months after Easter in the Christian calendar. It is a day for remembering those in our families and faith community who left us for the loving arms of Jesus during this past year, but who continue to be present with us in our hearts.

All Saints Day has a long history in the Christian Church. It is a celebration that helps us remember that our lives, our faith, and our actions are not simply our own creations. Instead, they are dependent on all we have been given by the family members and friends who came before us— their stories, their love, their influence, and their witness.

During our 11 AM worship service on November 4, we will read names, light candles, and remember the lives of those who graced our path and journeyed with us as a gift from God.

If you have a loved one whom you lost since November 2017, we would like to remember and celebrate that person’s life during this service.

Please contact Cyndi Nicholson, our Coordinator of Care and Prayer Ministries, at cyndi@mayfieldchurch.org or call the office at 440-729-4006.

A huge thank you to Nancy Nelson for taking photographs of various ministries and framing them in the main hallway. Take a look and see what’s going on in our church community!

If you have a passion for taking photos and would like to take photos at various events, please contact rebecca@mayfieldchurch.org to get connected.
Jesus Rescues: VBS 2018

Our 65 volunteers served exactly 150 children from MUMC, Heartland, and the community at VBS this year! Yay God! Children rotated by grades through different stations such as Bible Discovery, Games, Kid Vid Cinema, Snack, Imagination Station and much more, where they learned about Bible stories that corresponded with our theme “Jesus Rescues.” All volunteers witnessed joy in each child during our opening and closing time together, when we listened to skits, watched video clips of daily memory verses, and sang worship songs together. Thanks to all of the volunteers who helped with VBS this year. May our hearts continue to be filled with the same passion we had during VBS 2018!

Join us in The Rock for a Backpack Blessing at 9:30 AM on Sunday August 19! Your child can bring their backpack that will be used this coming school year and we will pray over them. (Students will leave with a special name tag for their backpack.) Kindergarten students are welcome to join during this brief blessing at the beginning of service and will return to the Stepping Stones classroom for the remaining time.
It’s time to start thinking about taking the Big Top down for the summer. We have had so much fun visiting the circus and talking about the many different components that make up a circus from the performers, the animals, the vendors, and the ring master. Just like in the circus where it takes many people to put on the show, God uses all of us and our individual talents to complete His work here on earth. Romans 12:3-5 says it best:

“For by grace given me I say to every one of you: Do not think of yourself more highly than you ought, but rather think of yourself with sober judgment, in accordance with the measure of faith God has given you. Just as each of us has one body with many members, and these members do not all have the same function, so in Christ we who are many form one body, and each member belongs to all others.”

This summer has been filled with learning and fun. We have had visits by Mermaid Gem, Geauga Parks Wildlife Specialists, Magician Dan, Mary Alice from Heinen’s, Jungle Terry (pictured right), S’more Blessings Mini Farm and East Coast Custard. The older children have visited Chester Historical Village a few times as well as a farm with alpacas. We have had a fantastic summer.

It’s hard to believe another school year is upon us as well. The Heartland preschool year starts Monday, August 27. Our classes are almost completely full for this school year and we are very thankful to our Lord for that blessing. We would appreciate your prayers for all the Heartland Staff as we end the summer sessions and begin our new school year.

If you have any questions about Heartland’s summer camp or the upcoming school year, please do not hesitate to contact the Heartland office at 440-729-4006 Ext. 116 or email heartland@mayfieldchurch.org.

Review the 2020 Draft Social Principles

To help guide our thinking and acting about how we live in, and are in engaged in ministry in the world, The United Methodist Church has created statements to guide the church in its efforts to create a world of justice. These statements are known as the Social Principles. The Social Principles are being revised, with the goal of making them more succinct, more theologically grounded, and more globally relevant. United Methodists are invited to comment on the draft content. Please go to the following web site, where you can read the document and fill out the survey: https://www.umcjustice.org/who-we-are/social-principles-and-resolutions/social-principles-revision/
